Cisco Webex

In order to use Webex videoconferencing, you need an internet connection and a device with a camera, microphone, and speaker (e.g., laptop, smartphone, or tablet).

You can download the Webex software (called “Webex Meetings”) for free in advance here or from your favorite app store. You can also arrive early to the meeting, click on the link, and then be prompted to download the software.

If you have difficulties using a smart device, the original Webex invite also includes call-in information, so that you can participate by phone. Judicial’s IT department recommends using the Denver call-in number: (720) 650-7664.
