

Rule Change #2002(14)

CHAPTER 27
THE COLORADO
RULES OF PROBATE PROCEDURE

Rule 23. Wills - Venue - Transfer to Other Jurisdiction

Upon a showing by petition that proper venue is in a county other than that of the court in which a will of a decedent is lodged, the court may order the will transferred to the proper district or probate court within this state, or to the proper court of probate without this state. If the requested transfer is to a court within this state, no notice need be given; if the requested transfer is to a court without this state, notice shall be given to the person nominated as personal representative and such other persons as the court may direct. No fee shall be charged for this action, but the petitioner shall advance the cost of photocopying the will for the court file, and the cost of sending the original will by ~~registered~~certified mail, or its equivalent, to the proper court.

Amended and Adopted by the Court, En Banc, December 12, 2002, effective January 1, 2003.

BY THE COURT:

Nancy E. Rice
Justice, Colorado Supreme Court