FOREWORD

The Colorado Judicial Branch Annual Statistical Report for Fiscal Year 2003 provides information about Colorado State Courts. Profiled in this report are case load statistics for the Colorado Supreme Court, Court of Appeals, District Court, County Courts, Water Courts, Probation, as well as summarized financial information for the Judicial Branch.

All references in this report reflect data gathered for Fiscal Year 2003 (July 1, 2002 through June 30, 2003), unless otherwise specified. This report can also be viewed by accessing the Colorado Judicial Branch website at www.courts.state.co.us. If you need additional information regarding this document, please contact the Office of the State Court Administrator, Division of Planning & Analysis or Division of Probation Services at (303) 861-1111.

Organization Chart of the Judicial Branch

The Colorado court system consists of the Supreme Court, an intermediate Court of Appeals, district courts and county courts. Each county has both a district court and a county court. Special probate and juvenile courts created by the Colorado Constitution exist in the City and County of Denver. Colorado statutes also authorize locally funded municipal courts with jurisdiction limited to municipal ordinance violations.

1 - Exclusive to the City and County of Denver. In the rest of the state, the district court is responsible for juvenile and probate matters.

2 – The Denver County Court functions as a municipal as well as a county court and is separate from the state court system.

3 -- Created and maintained by local government but subject to Supreme Court rules and procedures.

COLORADO SUPREME COURT

The Colorado Supreme Court is the state's court of last resort. Its decisions are binding on all County and District Courts, as well as the Court of Appeals.

The Supreme Court is composed of seven justices who serve ten-year terms. The Chief Justice is selected from the membership of the body and serves at the pleasure of a majority of the justices. The Chief Justice also serves as the executive head of the Colorado Judicial System and is the ex-officio chair of the Supreme Court Nominating Commission. The Chief Justice appoints the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals and the Chief Judge of each of the state's 22 judicial districts, and is vested with the authority to assign judges (active or retired) to perform judicial duties.

Requests to review decisions of the Colorado Court of Appeals constitute a majority of the Supreme Court's filings. The Supreme Court also has direct appellate jurisdiction over cases in which a statute has been held to be unconstitutional, cases involving decisions of the Public Utilities Commission, writs of habeas corpus, cases involving adjudication of water rights, summary proceedings initiated under the Election Code, and prosecutorial appeals concerning search and seizure questions in pending criminal proceedings. All of these appeals are filed directly with the Supreme Court, and, in these cases bypass the Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court also has exclusive jurisdiction to promulgate rules governing practice and procedure in civil and criminal actions.

Colorado's attorneys are licensed and disciplined by the Supreme Court. The court's attorney regulation system, funded by attorney registration fees, polices the profession. In addition, the court oversees the State Court Administrator, Board of Continuing Legal Education, Board of Law Examiners, Commission on Judicial Discipline, and Unauthorized Practice of Law Committee.

For more information, please contact Mac V. Danford, Clerk of the Colorado Supreme Court, at 2 East 14th Ave., Denver, Colo. 80203; or call (303) 861-1111 or (800) 888-0001. Oral arguments are open to the public and you are welcome to visit the court. The clerk's office can assist you in planning a court visit.

COLORADO COURT OF APPEALS

The Colorado Court of Appeals is the state's intermediate appellate court. Sixteen judges, who sit in panels or divisions of three, serve eight-year terms. The mission of the Court of Appeals is to provide the citizens of Colorado with clear, impartial and timely resolution of appealed orders and judgments as provided by law.

The body was created by statute; accordingly, jurisdiction is limited to areas specified by statute, together with the inherent powers granted to all courts in the state. However, in cases of first impression, or where existing law is not dispositive, the Court of Appeals is a law-making court.

The Court of Appeals is generally the first court to hear appeals of judgments and orders in criminal, juvenile, civil, domestic relations and probate matters. In addition, the Court of Appeals has specific appellate jurisdiction over decisions originating from a number of state administrative boards and agencies, including the Industrial Claim Appeals Office. Its determination of an appeal is final unless the Colorado Supreme Court agrees to hear the matter.

For more information pertaining to the Colorado Court of Appeals, or to observe oral arguments, contact John Doerner, Clerk of the Court at (303) 837-3785 or (800) 888-0001, ext. 785. Oral arguments are open to the public and you are always welcome to visit the court. The Court of Appeals is located in the Colorado Judicial Building at Two East 14th Ave., Denver, Colorado 80203.

DISTRICT COURT

Colorado is sectioned into 22 Judicial Districts encompassing all 64 counties. Across the state, district boundaries are aligned with county lines – some districts include just one county, while others include as many as seven. Each district has at least one district court location. The Supreme Court Chief Justice appoints a Chief Judge for each district to serve as the Chief Judicial Officer. In addition, each district has at least two district court judges; who may preside in more than one district court within that judicial district, particularly in rural areas of the state. There are currently 132 district judges.

District judges preside over felony criminal matters, civil claims in any amount, juvenile matters (including adoption, dependency and neglect matters, juvenile delinquency, and paternity actions), probate, mental health, divorce proceedings, and water cases. Additionally, district judges preside over jury trials, handle appeals from Colorado's municipal and county courts, and review decisions of administrative boards and agencies. District decisions may be appealed to the Colorado Court of Appeals and/or to the Colorado Supreme Court.

In Fiscal Year 2003 there were 169,458 case filings at the district court level (excluding water cases). Colorado's district courts were able to terminate 167,260 cases during that same 12-month period. During the past ten years, district court filings have increased 32.0% percent, rising from 128,326 cases to the current level of filings, with the greatest area of increase occurring in criminal filings.

COUNTY COURT

Colorado's county courts serve the citizens of each of the state's 64 counties. Every county has a county court served by one or more judges. County judges handle cases involving serious public safety issues such as misdemeanor cases, felony advisements, setting bonds, and preliminary hearings. County judges also issue search warrants and restraining orders in cases involving domestic violence, preside over traffic cases and civil actions involving no more than $15,000, and conduct jury trials. Appeals from the county court may be made to the district court.

Small claims courts are divisions of county court. Individuals are allowed to argue their own cases and to have speedy decisions on civil matters involving no more than $7,500. Court sessions are held during the day or evening to accommodate the public. There are no jury trials in small claims courts, and magistrates sometimes hear these cases rather than a judge. No plaintiff may file more than two claims per month or eighteen claims per year in small claims court.

In Fiscal Year 2003, Colorado county courts had 496,800 cases filed and were able to terminate 468,612 cases during that same period. During the past ten years, county court filings have increased 18.7% percent, rising from 418,203 to the current level of cases filed, with the greatest area of increase occurring in civil filings.

(a) Felony complaints represent the number of criminal cases, docketed as (CR), that begin in county court. The processing of felony cases varies between locations. The counties processing CR cases hear advisements. Some counties do preliminary hearings in county court before moving the case to district court for completion of the felony process. The case can also be reduced to a misdemeanor and remain in county court. The cases retain the same docket number in either county or district court. (b) Does not include felony complaints.

WATER COURT

The Water Right Determination and Administration Act of 1969 created seven water divisions based upon the drainage patterns of major rivers in Colorado: South Platte, Arkansas, Rio Grande, Gunnison, Colorado, White and San Juan Rivers. Each water division is staffed by a division engineer, appointed by the state engineer; a water judge, appointed by the Colorado Supreme Court; a water referee, appointed by the water judge; and a water clerk, assigned by the district court.

Water judges are district judges who have jurisdiction in the determination of water rights, the use and administration of water, and all other water matters within the jurisdiction of the water division. There are no jury trials in water courts, and all appeals are filed directly with the Colorado Supreme Court.

All water courts operate under a standard case definition approved by the Colorado Supreme Court in 1981. This made possible the establishment of water court filing standards, which have been reported annually by water divisions since July 1, 1981.

PROBATION

Colorado Probation is committed to public safety, victim and community reparation through offender accountability, skill and competency development and services to the communities of Colorado.

The ongoing commitment to these practices requires the probation system to be innovative and maintain knowledge of leading practices of offender assessment, supervision methods and community development. These are the foundations for improved public safety and offender accountability.

Colorado Probation has embarked on a wide range of energetic efforts to incorporate both traditional and creative forms of offender case management, victim services and community involvement.

This year's statistical report reflects our commitment to provide improving outcomes, protecting the public, reducing the overall cost of the correctional system and increasing services to the victims of crime.

At the close of FY 2003 the Judicial Department, Division of Probation Services began a lengthy planning process to adjust to the significant reduction in staff. Probation will begin FY 2004 with 61 fewer FTE than in FY 2003, while already managing excessive caseloads. It is projected that Colorado Probation may exceed 300 offenders per officer, far beyond the national average of 130-150 offenders per officer.

Probation Programs

The Colorado Judicial Department administers adult and juvenile probation in the state's 22 judicial districts. The Division of Probation Services publishes guidelines and standards for regular probation supervision and all specialized probation programs. Within the limits of these state standards, each district is free to develop and structure programs that address the needs of the local court and the community.

The number of adult offenders sentenced to probation in FY 2003 was 23,468; this was an increase from FY 2002. Also in FY 2003, of all adult probationers terminated, sixty-seven percent did so successfully.

In Fiscal Year 2003, 7,764 juvenile offenders were sentenced to probation. Seventy two percent of all juveniles completing probation were successful.

High Risk Offender Programs

Specialized programs are valuable probation resources which provide the court with community sentencing options for high-risk offenders. The three main goals of specialized probation programs are to assess the offender's criminal risk to the community; to target the offender's service needs related to ongoing criminal activity; and to identify appropriate treatment and resources to reduce the criminal behavior. All applicants for specialized probation programs are screened for appropriateness by local internal boards. Specialized probation programs offer specialized assessments, electronic monitoring, cognitive skills training, educational assessments, literacy programs and employment programs.

Intensive Supervision Probation

The Adult Intensive Supervision Probation (ISP) offers intensive monitoring and treatment to high-risk offenders as an alternative to prison. At the end of FY 2003, 1,600 offenders were supervised on ISP. The program successfully diverted 361 offenders from the Department of Corrections in FY 2003, saving over $10.1 million. Due to budget reductions the program caseloads will be increased by 80%, from 20 offenders per officer to 45 offenders. The Division of Probation Services will carefully observe the impact of this program change during FY 2004.

Juvenile Intensive Supervision Probation

The Juvenile Intensive Supervision Probation (JISP) Program was in place in 17 of the 22 judicial districts during FY 2003. At the end of FY 2003, 525 juveniles, who might otherwise be serving sentences in the Division of Youth Corrections, were supervised on JISP. In FY 2004, budget reductions have impacted program caseloads by 40%, whereby officers will supervise 35 juvenile offenders per officer compared to 20 juvenile offenders in prior years. The Division of Probation Services will closely follow the impact of this program change during FY 2004.

Specialized Drug Offender Program

The Specialized Drug Offender Program (SDOP) was developed in 1991, as a response to an increase in the number of drug offenders and offenders with severe substance abuse problems. At the end of FY 2003 the program was eliminated because of budget reductions in probation programs. These offenders were either transferred to ISP or to regular probation to finish their supervision requirements. The probation officers associated with SDOP have been reassigned to regular probation caseloads. This program maintained over ten years of successful outcomes, with over 50% of all offenders successfully completing the program. Elements of the program may remain in the general practice of supervision.

Female Offender Program

The Female Offender Program (FOP) was developed in 1992, to intervene in the lives of female offenders who are experiencing problems, especially substance abuse problems. At the end of FY 2003 the program was also eliminated because of budget reductions in probation programs. These offenders were either transferred to ISP or to regular probation to finish their supervision requirements. The probation officers associated with FOP have been reassigned to regular probation caseloads. This program maintained over ten years of successful outcomes, with over 56% of all offenders successfully completing the program.

Sex Offender Intensive Supervision Probation

The Sex Offender Intensive Supervision Probation (SOISP) was developed in response to statutory requirements of lifetime supervision for certain sex offenders. The program combines monitoring, treatment and high levels of accountability to contain offenders safely in the community. The program became available in November of 1998, and at the end of FY 2003, 739 offenders were supervised on SOISP.

Due to the public safety interest the judicial department chose not to reduce the capacity of this program for FY 2004.

Drug Court

In Drug Courts, non-violent serious drug abusing offenders who receive probation sentences may undergo treatment and counseling and are monitored closely for probation compliance with swift, consistent and firm action in response to program violations. In FY 2003, the 2nd, 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 11th and 22nd Judicial Districts operated adult drug courts, while the 2nd, 8th and 11th Judicial District operated juvenile drug courts. Federal funding has provided operational support for a model integrated family drug court in Denver Juvenile Court.

Private Probation

Chief Justice Directive 02-02, which sets probation priorities, explains the provisions under which districts may contract with private probation supervision for appropriate low risk cases. Part III of the directive states that districts may enter into agreements with public or private entities for the provision of probation services, including investigation services and the supervision of lower risk probationers. On June 30, 2003 there were 11,903 offenders being managed by private probation services. By utilizing private probation for these low risk offenders, State probation departments can dedicate more resources to high risk offenders, which provide greater public safety.

DUI Offenders

The Alcohol and Drug Driving Safety (ADDS) Program conducts alcohol/drug evaluations and makes treatment recommendations for offenders convicted of driving under the influence with drugs or alcohol. In FY 2003 the program completed nearly 30,000 evaluations and monitored compliance with treatment and other court orders for Colorado's county courts.

Victim Services

In 1993 Colorado's General Assembly enacted victim rights legislation for victims of personal crime. In 1996, the Victim Rights Act was amended to require Colorado Probation departments to provide victim services. Since FY 1999, each of the states 23 probation departments has provided services to victims whose offender is placed on probation. In FY 2003, Probation Victim Assistance Coordinators sent 12,296 letters to victims of crime informing them of their right to receive notification, and of these victims nineteen percent (2,372) requested receipt of the statutorily required notification. There were a total of 13,943 critical notification events in which victims were notified.

Key: Successful Terminations: This number includes all the total successful terminations and private successful terminations.

Unsuccessful Terminations: This column includes revocations and absconsions. A revocation is defined as a termination from probation supervision for a technical violation, new misdemeanor, or new felony. A revocation to Community Corrections is NOT included in this section. These offenders are not included on this table as they are still under the supervision and jurisdiction of probation.

Total Terminations: In this chart only, the total terminations include: revocations, absconsions and successful terminations from probation supervision.

Key: Successful Terminations : This number equals the total successful terminations and private successful terminations.

Revocations : This column includes revocation from probation supervision for a technical violation, new misdemeanor, or a new felony. A revocation to community corrections is NOT included in this table. These offenders are not included on this table as they are still under the supervision and jurisdiction of probation.

Absconion : This column includes offenders that may have absconded from supervision and a warrant issued. In rare circumstances, an offender could be terminated as an absconder but no warrant issued.

Community Corrections Discharge : This column is the number of Community Corrections clients discharged from probation supervision. The outcome of these cases are recorded by the community corrections agencies.

Administrative Closure : Includes death of an offender, deportation or no services provided to an offender ( i.e. in custody in another jurisdiction).

Total Terminations : This total does not include "Courtesy Closure sent back to original jurisdiction". Those terminations are included in the appropriate category of the originating district.

Closure Types for Interstate offenders supervised by Colorado Probation are included in the above table.

Key: Successful Terminations: This number includes all the total successful terminations and private successful terminations.

Unsuccessful Terminations: This column includes revocations and absconsions. A revocation is defined as a termination from probation supervision for a technical violation, new misdemeanor, or new felony. A revocation to Community Corrections is NOT included in this section. These offenders are not included on this table as they are still under the supervision and jurisdiction of probation.

Total Terminations: In this chart only, the total terminations include: revocations, absconsions and successful terminations from probation supervision.

Key: *4, 20, 21, 22: These district currently contract with private probation for some lower risk juveniles and those private juvenile numbers are included in this table.

Successful Terminations : This number includes all successful terminations and private successful terminations.

Revocations : This column includes revocation from probation supervision for a technical violation, new misdemeanor, or a new felony. A revocation to community corrections is NOT included in this table. These offenders are not included on this table as they are still under the supervision and jurisdiction of probation.

Absconson : This column includes offenders that may have absconded from supervision and a warrant issued. In rare circumstances, an offender could be terminated as an absconder but no warrant issued.

Change of Venue: This column includes juveniles who have been sent to another jurisdiction for supervision.

Administrative Closure : Includes death of an offender, deportation or no services provided to an offender (i.e. in custody in another jurisdiction).

Total Terminations : This total does not include "Courtesy Closure sent back to original jurisdiction". Those terminations are included in the appropriate category of the originating district. Closure Types for Interstate offenders supervised by Colorado Probation are included in the above table.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

In Fiscal Year 2003, the Judicial Branch had a budget of $233 million and about 2,872.3 full-time equivalent staff. This reflects an increase of $13.6 million over the original FY 2002 appropriation due to the addition of six new judges and staff, new probation officer staff, a Judicial pay raise and general cost of living salary increases for all judicial employees.

In FY 2003, the budget was cut during supplemental time to $226 million, which was managed through a hiring freeze and eight days of furlough for all non-judge staff. Of the post-supplemental budget, 86% directly funded the courts and the probation departments (with the trial courts at 55%, appellate courts at 5%, and the probation departments at 26%). The remaining 14% funded support functions (central administration at 6%, information services at 2%, and the insurance and wage survey costs for the Judicial Branch employees at 6%).

Personnel costs of $132 million comprised the largest portion of the $226 million budget, while operating costs of $9 million comprised the smallest. Twenty-four million dollars supported victims' compensation and assistance programs and $13.6 million was appropriated to mandated costs for court appointed counsel, jury and court costs. The remaining $48 million was appropriated in various areas including federal funds and grants, the collections and alternate dispute resolution programs, training, courthouse furnishings, leased space and other miscellaneous items.

The Judicial Branch's FY 2003 appropriation represents 1.7% of the State of Colorado's total appropriated budget.

JUDICIAL BRANCH RESTITUTION RECOVERIES

In Fiscal Year 2003, the state courts throughout Colorado collected a record total of $19.8 million in restitution for victims of crime. Restitution collection efforts are concentrated in Collections Investigator (CI) offices in the local courts and probation departments. Through this statewide program, the Judicial Branch has implemented a variety of proactive collection strategies and procedures to maximize collections of restitution, fines and fees. The collection efforts also involve collaboration across numerous other offices and personnel including judges, court administrators, clerks, probation officers, district attorneys, outside collection services and other criminal justice agencies. The chart below depicts the increases in restitution recoveries over the last ten years.
